Theater is an opportunity to explore, create and have fun. Kids of all ages can relate to the universal appeal of theater. The program will allow kids to challenge themselves while working with others, and turn the ordinary into the extraordinary. All Classes are offered through Crane River Theater Company, and will be taught by theater professionals. The final day of classes will include a performance for families and friends. All classes are generously supported by the Peter Kiewit Foundation, the Arram Family Foundation, the Theodore G. Baldwin Foundation, and First National Bank.
